

The Washington School Improvement Framework is a school level summary; therefore, there is no data at the state or district level.

